Warns Ike to 'Give' Some on Foreign Program

By UNITED PRESS
Speaker Sam Rayburn disclosed today he has told President Eisenhower to "make some concessions" to the protectionist bloc if he wants to save his beleaguered foreign trade program.

The Texas made the statement to reporters after Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee, which must clear extension legislation, gave the administration until Monday to draft compromises to ease pressure from protectionists.

The protectionists want higher import duties on cheaply made foreign products which compete with domestic industries already hurt by the recession. The pending legislation would extend the trade program for five years and give the President increased tariff-cutting authority.

Parade of New Cars to Be Thursday

A parade of new cars and trucks will take place in downtown Hope at 4 p. m. Thursday as local dealers team in a city-wide Sale-O-Rama of vehicles.

The big Sale-O-Rama has been underway in the city all week and will continue several days. Auto dealers feel that concerted sales of this type not only stimulate car buying but tends to set off a wave of general buying, thus helping the entire community as well as satisfying customers.

All of the local dealers are offering special prices, special terms and other advantages to induce sale of their 1958 models.

Thursday's parade will form at Child's Food store, travel down Second and through the city. Each dealer is limited to four units. Those taking part in the parade will be Young Chevrolet, Hope Auto Co., Nunn-Pentecost Motor Co., The Trading Post, Keady Buick Co., Davis Pontiac Co., Davis Oldsmobile Co., Tol-E-Pex Co., Archer Motor Co.

Chaffee to Let Supply Contracts

FORT CHAFFEE (UP) — Supply contracts for the base which may amount to a half million dollars will be up for bid soon, U.S. Army Capt. Roger G. Snodgrass, purchasing the contracts officer, said today.

He explained several supply contracts will expire June 30 and invitations for bids will be offered within next week.

Snodgrass said eight contracts totaling $526,000 were awarded to Arkansas firms by the base in the last few weeks. The largest contract went to Foregreen Brothers of Fort Smith for work on the base's roads. The total of the bid was $178,200. The lowest of the eight was $2,479, which went to Meadows Lumber Company of Alma for general repairs to the USO recreation center.

Louisiana Areas Brace for Red River Overflow

By UNITED PRESS
Rain-swollen rivers lapped over levees in Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee and North Carolina, and a seaboard storm whipped up tides and spawned tornadoes in South Carolina.

One person was injured and several homes were damaged Tuesday when a twister struck near Walterboro, S.C. The funnel cut a 300-foot-wide path through the sparsely populated area and lifted one home 30 feet into the air without injuring four young persons who were inside.

In Louisiana, the Red River threatened to break a levee protecting about 10,000 acres in the northern part of the state despite an around-the-clock battle by 500 almmen and civil defense and volunteer workers.

Two hundred families have been evacuated from East Point, La., to escape the Red River's threat while bulldozers fought to raise the height of the levee. East Point is about 100 miles upriver from Alexandria, La. A 3,000,000 bridge collapsed 50 miles south of East Point, closing State Highway 6.

Backwater from the Pearl River in Mississippi began to seep through a levee near Jackson and kept two dozen National Guardsmen busy having sandbags. Forty families fled a trailer camp below the levee.

Residents said a flash flood which struck the heart of Jonesboro, Tenn., Monday night was the "worst since 1928." The waters left a huge cleanup job for the community and the owners of 20 damaged buildings.

In Arkansas, the Ouachita River neared an all-time high at Camden and Crossett.

No rain was predicted for the area today.

Meanwhile, a mass of cool air plunged into the South to lower temperatures 20 degrees or more. The cool air, which reached down to northern Florida and prevailed in the Ohio River Valley and the northern coast.

Rains spattered the northwest and northeastern sections of the country and dampened the Rocky Mountains to give Helena, Mont., a half-inch of precipitation. Fair weather was noted in California and Nevada.

Plane Rocket Launcher Falls Near a House

PERRY, Fla. (UP) — An empty rocket launcher fell from a jet aircraft south of here Tuesday night, missing an occupied farmhouse by about 200 feet.

Sheriff M.S. Linton said this morning he had been unable to determine what type of plane it was or where it was based.

The rack, with spaces for 24 rockets, fell in an open area near the home of Robert Ellison about six miles south of town, the sheriff said. No damage was done.

Three men who were fishing at a pond about two miles from the Ellison home reported seeing four objects hit the water when the plane passed over. Linton said he planned to check that area in an effort to identify the objects.

The sheriff described the launcher as being about four feet long by four feet wide and about 14 inches thick. He said it contained two rows of launching tubes, all empty.

It was the third time this year that military airplanes have dropped portions of their armament. All three drops were over the southeastern United States.

Family Week Subject of Kiwanis Talk

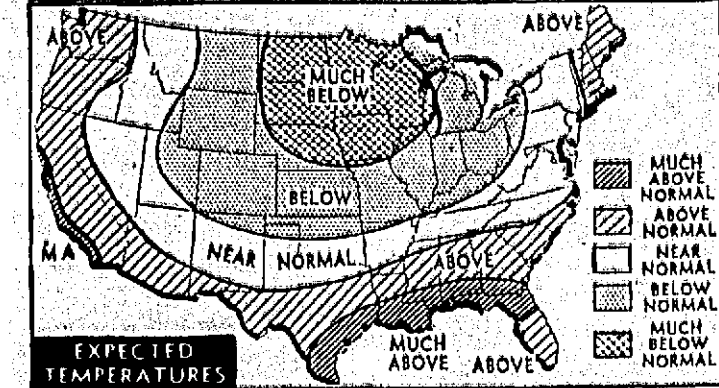

The Rev. J. W. "Bill" Moore, pastor of Unity Baptist Church, was formally inducted Tuesday as a new member of the Hope Kiwanis Club, and then took over the speaker's stand to deliver an impressive talk on National Family Week.

As long as our homes remain good and strong, he said, the nation remains good and strong. He declared, and then pointed to the vital role the church plays in helping families stay together.

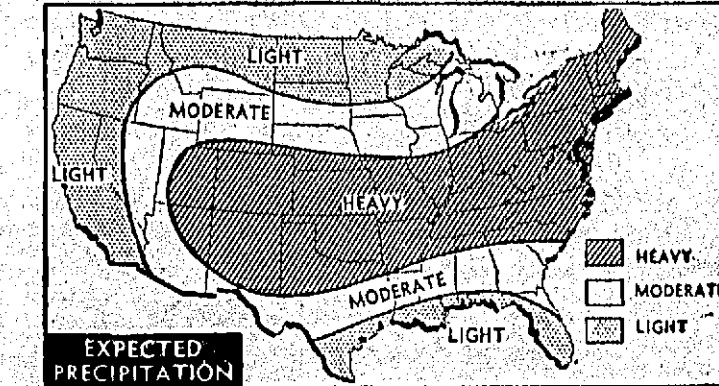

Guests included: Bronis McPherson, Gordon Prescott of McCaskill and Bennie Jones of Texarkana.

Wet Weather Slows Planting

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) — A pile of soil permitted several days of field work in Missouri during the past week, but generally wet soil has hindered farm operations, the weather bureau says today with Hender day.

Temperatures from now until June are expected to average below seasonal normals over the northern half of the nation lying between the Rockies and the Appalachians. Above normal amounts are indicated in West Coast, Gulf and South Atlantic States, as well as New England. In other areas near normal temperatures are anticipated. Large week-to-week fluctuations are indicated over most areas.

Precipitation from now until June is expected to equal or exceed seasonal normals over most of the nation. Subnormal amounts are predicted for the areas along the Pacific and Gulf coasts and in the Northern Plains.

Garden Clubs Plan Mother's Day Display

Mrs. J. C. Carlton, Mrs. G. B. Hughes and Mrs. C. V. Nunn, Jr., representing Hope Garden Clubs met with the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning to solicit the cooperation of merchants in the observance of Mother's Day.

The Garden Club members propose to place an arrangement of flowers in the store windows Saturday morning to be left over the weekend. Those merchants present at the meeting were unanimous in their approval of this action of the Garden Clubs, and suggested that publicity be given to this plan so all other merchants would have a chance to participate.

The Chamber of Commerce office is compiling a list of those who wish to participate and will make this list available to the Garden Clubs on Thursday, May 8th. Merchants desiring to be included should notify the Chamber of Commerce office by noon Thursday.

Ouachita Goes Out at Calion

CALION (UP) — The Ouachita River climbed out of its banks to flood U.S. Highway 167 just north of here today and Army engineers at the scene said they might ask the road be closed to stop damage to it.

The river rose a foot in the 24 hours ending at 6 a. m. today, but the chief of the engineers, G. A. Langhoffer, said he was optimistic about controlling the flood water if the area does not get any more rain.

Langhoffer said the levee should be able to hold another rise of four to five feet.

The city council asked fishermen and pleasure boat operators not to use Calion lake, to cut down the chance of washing out the levee with the wake of the boats. And the engineers asked that boats stay off the river near the lake.

Since April 24, the Ouachita has risen 10 feet.

Costly Flaw in Nation's Civil Defense

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (UP) — A costly flaw in the nation's civil defenses was exposed today when simulated radioactive fallout rained make-believe death on millions who lacked adequate shelter.

The fallout, plotted as part of the 1958 "Operation Alert" that opened Tuesday with 201 mock H-bomb and missile attacks, pointed up what Civil Defense officials said was a "crucial need" for both mass and family size shelters.

Early radioactivity reports indicated some of the deadliest mock fallout centered in the heavily populated New England states.

Two bright spots of the alert were reported by crews manning a 24-hour watch in the "war room" at the Battle Creek headquarters of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

It took less than three minutes to flash a warning to all crucial target areas. This speed would be invaluable in preparing for actual missile attacks.

Improvements in mass evacuation procedures were credited with "saving" about 25 million persons who would have been considered casualties in last year's drill.

The alert began with a warning flashed at 10:06 a. m. a. s. l. Tuesday.

Before the mock attack ended at 3 p. m. there were imaginary detonations of 270 targets, including New York, Washington, 80 state capitals and two bases of the Strategic Air Command.

National HD Observance in Hempstead

Better family living is the goal of all home demonstration workers who will celebrate the 13th annual National Home Demonstration Week, May 4-10.

Today's Extension home demonstration program stresses how to buy food, clothing, and furnishings. It helps women learn how to plan nutritious meals and teaches efficient management of time and money. It helps them to understand human relationships in the family and in the community.

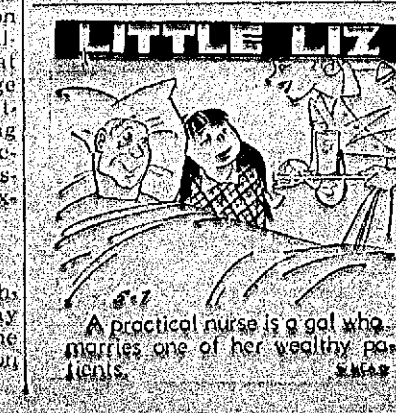

And it still helps young homemakers learn how to cook and sew just as it did when it was a new program in Arkansas in 1954. But it also meets the needs of the homemaker who is also employed outside her home.

Ninety three extension agents in Arkansas last year worked with over 14,147 volunteer leaders to carry programs to 34,003 women. The HD agents teach classes in all towns and counties, give radio talks, write newspaper articles, and in some cases appear on TV programs. Volunteer leaders assist these agents in arranging the home demonstration classes and programs.

State Extension specialists in home economics go to the counties. These specialists write teaching bulletins for homemakers in use, prepare newspapers or articles, appear on radio and television home shows, and keep agents up to date on all new information in their particular field of subject matter.

This program is cooperatively conducted by the Cooperative Extension Services of the counties, state, and U.S. Department of Agriculture.

NATO Nations Besides Big 3 to Attend Meet

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UP) — The Big Three Western powers announced today that other Western nations, such as Italy, may take part in an East-West foreign ministers' meeting or a summit conference.

The United States, Britain and France announced this in a brief joint statement issued as the NATO foreign ministers meeting neared its end.

The statement said: "The three countries conducting the preliminary diplomatic contacts with the Soviet Union indicated that they did not consider that they would necessarily be the only Western nations to take part in a possible conference of foreign ministers or in a possible summit conference. Other countries, as for instance, Italy, might then be included."

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UP) — The United States and its North Atlantic Allies wind up their three-day conference here today pledging their determination to maintain a continued tough stand against Russia's "peace-with-atomic-threats" offensive.

The 15 NATO foreign ministers met in a two-hour top secret session this morning to round off their summit strategy. Only one aide accompanied each delegation chief.

Then they moved into their fifth plenary session. A sixth and probably final plenary session was scheduled for this afternoon.

American progress in developing intermediate range ballistic missiles was reported to have strengthened the NATO position in resisting Soviet aims for a summit parley strictly on Moscow's terms.

That feeling was evident here as a seven-nation committee of experts from the United States, Canada, Italy, France, Britain, Belgium and Turkey was named to draft the closing communique of this Atlantic Council meeting.

In the communique, the foreign ministers were expected to announce their determination to continue plugging for an East-West meeting with the Soviets, but not on terms dictated by the Kremlin.

The communique also was expected to reaffirm: "The solidarity of the Western alliance."

The determination of the West not to let down its guard until there is an East-West agreement on controlled disarmament.

The West's continued efforts to end the East-West nuclear arms race.

The need for closer economic and political cooperation between the states of the North Atlantic alliance.

The communique was scheduled for release late this afternoon, or possibly late this evening.

Flood Relief Is Now Available

PINE BLUFF (UP) — Applications for relief were to be taken today from victims of last week's flood in Jefferson county, according to John Bohner, county Red Cross disaster relief chairman.

Bohner said there is no official estimate of housing damage. However, County Judge Joe T. Hais, Jr. said road damage in the county would top $25,000.

Negro Man Drowns in Spring River

POCAHONTAS (UP)—A 50-year-old Negro man drowned in swirling Spring River near Joplin early today while helping remove stranded cattle from a flooded farm.

He was identified as Marvin Oakes, an employee on the Lucian Sloan farm, in Lawrence county, about 15 miles west of here. Oakes was in a boat with E. L. Dean, Jr., a white man, and they were taking a calf out of the flooded area. The boat overturned.

Tralmen from a passing Priceco freight saw the incident, stopped and helped pull Dean from the water. They could not find Oakes' body.

Sloan, owner of the farm, was directing the livestock evacuation, but was not injured.

WARDSON
JEWELRY

The day Moreno vanished, he showed up at the bank and drew all of the refugee money out.

CHAPTER I
My name is Milo March. I'm an insurance investigator. It's not quite the same as being a private eye, even though I wear a trench coat, sometimes play a case by ear and have been known to chase a blonde — when there wasn't a brunette around.

I have my own office on Madison Avenue — March's Insurance Service Corporation. I work for any of the insurance companies that wants to hire me. I get most of the cases — life, fire, jewelry or other valuables — which are too big or too hard for their regular claims departments. It's a living.

My fees were pretty high but the money didn't last long after I got through paying for my apartment and my office. I was trying to think of a way of drumming up a little business when the phone rang.

"I picked up the receiver. 'March's Insurance Service Corporation.' I said in a voice which I hoped would convey the idea that I was so busy I could barely squeeze in one more case.

"Milo," a contralto voice said, "have you really become as stuffy as you sound?"

The voice belonged to Merry Mellany. She was beautiful and blonde and either the third or the fourth richest woman in the world. I could never remember which. I had worked on a case involving her jewels a couple of years earlier and we'd been friends ever since.

"I am not stuffy," I said indignantly. "But once in a while I have to sound as if I was in an office and not a after-hours club. How are you, Merry?"

"Wonderful, but bored," she said. "Take me to lunch?"

"It's the best offer I've had all morning," I said. "Twelve thirty at Chenier's?"

"Love you," she said. "I'll be there. She hung up."

I replaced the receiver, wondering why it always seemed so much easier to spend money than to make it. That seemed to be the only result of a hard money policy.

handy when I want to add to my stamp collection. What's the job?"

"Just a small problem," he said. "Which meant it was a tough one. 'The name Dr. Jaime Moreno do anything to you?'"

Dr. Jaime Moreno had been a political refugee from one of the Latin American countries in the Caribbean. He'd been teaching Latin — American literature at New York University. He had left the university one evening and that was the last ever seen of him.

"I remember," I said. "He came from one of those banana republics in Central America."

"Sugar, not bananas," Raymond said. "He was an exile from the Monican Republic. He was pretty well known as a critic of the regime down there."

The Monican Republic was the personal property of a guy who called himself Generalissimo Francisco Torcido, or sometimes simply The Benefactor. He'd been the dictator of the country for the past 30 years. The Monican Republic was a little country about the size of Illinois, bounded by the Dominican Republic, the Republic of Haiti and the Caribbean.

"I remember reading about it in the papers," I said. "They never found him, huh?"

Raymond shook his head. "Not a trace."

"The theory," I said, "was that Torcido had him killed, wasn't it?"

"There are two theories," Raymond said carefully. "Morano was the treasurer of some refugee fund amounting to about $130,000. The day after he 'vanished' he showed up at the bank and drew all of the money out. So one theory is that he took the money and went to greener pastures. The other theory is that Generalissimo Torcido had him kidnapped and brought back down there where he was killed. There is also the death of an American which some people are trying to tie in with it."

I remembered reading something about that. I had to do with an American pilot who had supposedly flown Morano to the Monican Republic and then he, too, had vanished there. But I didn't ask any questions. I could always check it with someone who wasn't so careful as Raymond.

"After all," Raymond added irrelevantly, "the Monican Republic, while small, is an important member of the anti-Communist bloc and Generalissimo Torcido is, I believe, well liked in Washington."

"Sure," I said, "and I remember hearing somewhere that Lucky Luciano helped us to win the war. Bedfellows make strange politics."

"Well," he said vaguely. He wasn't going to pursue that line. "In the meantime, everyone has been searching for Dr. Moreno. The New York police, the FBI, and a private group mostly composed of other refugees. There has been some prodding on the matter from Congress. Most recently, the Monican Republic has hired a couple of well-known lawyers and an investigator here in America to try to solve the mystery. I understand that the tourist business has fallen off since the incident and Torcido himself is anxious to have the matter cleared up."

I looked at him. "Do I get the impression that after all these years, you want me to step in and help you find him?"

"Not exactly," he said. "I've carried no insurance on the way. I doubt if he and any of the circumstances have been pretty much wiped out. I suppose you'd like to see him somewhere."

"I never want to," I said. "But I like the money it comes in."

FORD SUNLINER...
America's glamorous,
best-selling soft top

FORD SKYLINER...
World's only retractable hardtop

Why people who love CONVERTIBLES buy FORD

Only Ford lets you choose from a steering convertible or a fabric-top beauty. Who else but Ford... world's largest convertible maker... could offer you two different kinds of convertibles. There's the fabric-top Ford Sunliner and the steel-top Ford Skyliner... world's only retractable hardtop. They're both styled and powered in the Thunderbird tradition. You'll see at a glance why they're both the value leaders of the convertible world.

Nowhere else can you find so much convertible for so little money. Take the Ford Sunliner for example. A comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices shows it's America's lowest-priced convertible. Yet Ford's closest competitor can't touch the Sunliner for rear seat leg room, trunk space or ease of top operation. As for the Skyliner, it's the world's only 2-and-1 fine car... a snug steel-top and a breezy convertible. Just touch a button. The all-steel top vanishes smoothly into the rear deck... and you're sitting pretty in the smartest convertible even. It's another example of the advanced engineering you get in every Ford car.

So if you're the sun-worshipping type, better see your Ford Dealer and get all the reasons why Ford outsells its nearest competitor in convertibles by a whopping 2-to-1 margin!

Told to Keep Out of Italy Election

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UP)—American soldiers and government employees have been instructed to "keep their hands off" the Italian election campaign and "act like good ambassadors," a spokesman at U.S. Army headquarters here said today.
The order went out after a series of incidents in Italy. Three U.S. soldiers were arrested Monday in Naples for damaging Communist election posters. On Saturday, 67 paratroopers were escorted out of Venice by Italian police after several tore down posters. A U.S. Army corporal was detained for a similar offense last Friday.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl Hits 3 Lemons in Marital Gambols

Dear Dorothy Dix: Is it lack of judgment, lack of sales resistance or just bad luck that causes some women always to make unfortunate marriages? I have a daughter who is intelligent, has high principles and ideals, is attractive and poised. Yet she is about to take on her third unreliable mate. Her first husband was a delicate man who could turn on the charm when he was so inclined — but lost the inclination after he was married. Her second husband was a drunkard — let's not mince words. The new one is temperamental — and as imprudent as his predecessors. He thinks he's a genius but as far as I can see his only talent is borrowing money. What's the matter with my daughter's taste in men?

HARASSING MOM
Dear Mom: There's just no explanation of why women marry the men they do. There's no rhyme or reason, no method, no system. They fall in love, and that's that. One reason why women marry drunkards, gamblers and heels is to reform them. A woman can't resist the idea of making something over — especially if it's a man. Another reason why women marry weaklings is that they appeal to the maternal spirit. They need to be taken care of and, to a loving woman, that's enough to work on. Few women are such suckers for punishment as your daughter; however, if she is bent on her own destruction all you can do is advise, pray and be ready to soothe the inevitable wounds.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My problem may seem involved, but here it is. Six months ago I met a boy who gave me a ring after we'd been going together for a while. Everything was fine until he admitted he had lied about having a drivers license. He claimed the reason he lied was because I have my license and he felt silly because he didn't have one. He promised not to lie again. Now I learn that he is only 15 whereas he had told me he was 17. I don't mind him being a year younger than me, but I don't like the idea of these lies.

Dear L. T.: Sit down for a good long talk. Ask what else he's been lying about. I can see why he'd want to cover up on these two points and if that's the end of his falsifications, forgive and forget. If he keeps resorting to fibs — and keep a close watch on him — call it quits.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 14, and like a boy who is 15. Our parents won't let us go with each other. They seem to think we'll run away and get married, which is ridiculous. We both have sense enough to realize we're too young for that, but we do enjoy each other's company.

GILLY
Dear Gilly: Parents can jump to the most absurd conclusions, can't we? You sound like a very sensible young lady; if you act that way around your folks, I'm sure in a short while they'll realize that their fears are groundless, and let you lead a normal social life for a 14 year old girl.

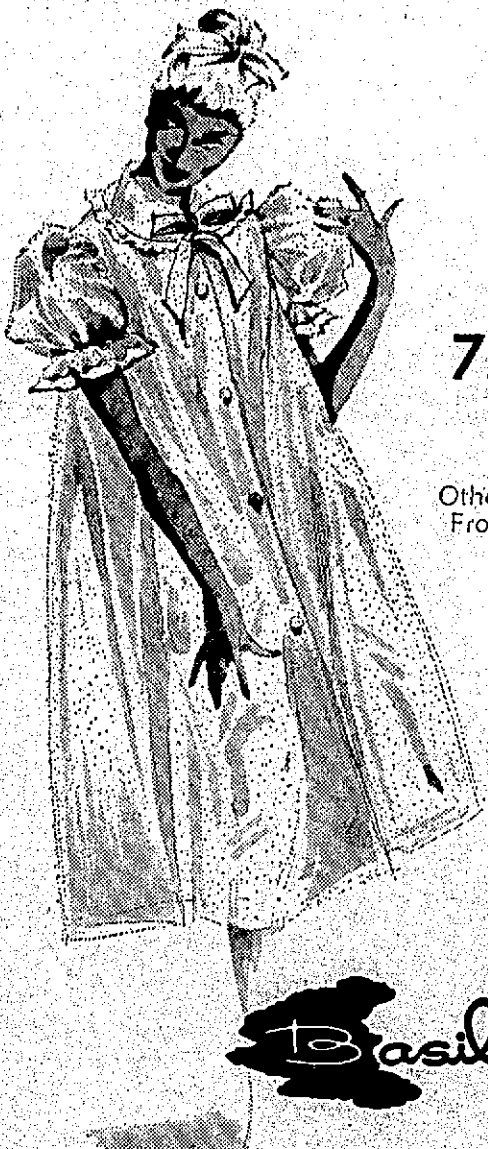

Dear Dorothy Dix: I frequently have lunch with a girl in my office.

Invariably, as soon as we are seated she reaches for her newspaper and starts reading. I've dropped hints but they do no good.

MIFFED
Dear Miffed: Bring your own paper — or book, or have lunch with a more talkative companion. I'm sure the newspaper reader won't miss you.

Braves in Position to Take Over the National

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves are ignoring those pseudo-contenders cluttering up the first division because they've quietly moved into a position where they soon can take command of the National League race.

The Braves are pretty much in their 1957 pennant-winning schedule after walling up the St. Louis Cardinals, 12-8, Tuesday night with a 13-hit assault on seven pitchers. They're only a half game out of first place and their 117 record compares favorably with their 135 getaway last season.

But the real key to the Braves' start is that they are within easy striking distance of the lead when three of the other four so-called contenders—Los Angeles, Philadelphia and St. Louis—are holding up the rest of the league in sixth, seventh and eighth places.

Cubs in Front
The front-running Chicago Cubs dealt Cincinnati its seventh defeat in 5 games when Glen Hobbie's four-hitter throttled the Redlegs, 4-0. The San Francisco Giants whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-0, and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged out the Phillies, 7-6, in 14 innings in the other National League games. The Boston Red Sox beat the stumbling Chicago White Sox, 7-5, in the only American League game.

Frank Torre and Bob Hazle, two of the key fill-ins last season, drove in three runs each for the Braves, who piled up a seven-run lead in the first two innings and clinched the game with a five-run burst in the ninth after the Cardinals drew to within one run. Bob Bohl received credit for his fourth win although Don McMahon and Gene Conley finished up. The loss was the sixth in a row and 13th in 16 games for the Cardinals who are now 7½ games off the pace in last place. Stan Musial stretched his hitting streak to 16 games with two hits but even so his average dropped a point to .316.

Hobbie, acquired in a much-criticized deal with Milwaukee for Bob Rush, struck out seven Redlegs as he won his second decision for the Cubs. Bobby Thomson hammered a three-run first-inning homer off Joe Nuxhall to provide the big blow for the Cubs.

Mike McCormick, $60,000 bonus lefty, yielded only three infield hits to win his second game of the season for the Giants. Rookie catcher Bob Schmidt capped a five-run San Francisco rally in the first with a bases-filled double and rookie first-baseman Orlando Cepeda banged out his eighth homer. McCormick, only 19, struck out four and walked one.

Dodgers Last Longer
The Dodgers outlasted the Phillies in a four-hour and six-minute struggle that ended when Charlie Neal scored on a long single off the left field fence by Carl Furillo. Neal had walked after receiving a "life" when catcher Stan Lopata dropped his foul pop up with two out. Don Drysdale, who had lost five straight decisions, picked up his first win in relief while Dick Farrell, ace Philadelphia reliever, suffered his first defeat since last June 5. The Phillies took the lead with a six-run sixth-inning rally but the Dodgers tied the score in the ninth when Duke Snider collected the third of his four hits.

Dick Garnett and Frank Malzone hit back to back homers in the first inning to rattle the Red Sox

Henderson Host to AIC Meet

ARKADELPHIA (UP)—Teh Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference two-day track meet got underway today with Henderson State the host squad.

The coach of the home team, Jim Mack Sawyer, said Hendrix or Arkansas Tech would be the leader, but Shorty Salmon, the Tech coach disagreed a little. "It will be Hendrix if Henderson, probably Hendrix if sprinter David Seagum is ready to go," said Salmon. "Henderson is strong, well balanced and spread out," he added.

Atlanta Defeats Little Rock 6-4

By UNITED PRESS
That "on again, off again" pitcher—Phil Regan—was on the mound Tuesday night when Birmingham met Memphis in the Southern Association. But after one inning, Regan was out. Reason? Four big runs by the Chicks.

Those first-inning runs counted for Memphis' 6-2 victory over the Barons.

In other loop action Atlanta beat Little Rock 6-4. New Orleans slugged three homers for an 8-2 decision over Chattanooga and Mobile blasted Nashville 9-4.

The Atlanta Crackers exploded in the ninth inning when Cracker Sammy Meeks slugged a two-run double followed by a two-run triple off the bat of Chuck Collier to put the Crackers ahead 6-3.

Charley Seerest opened the bottom of the ninth to rattle home-runners with a homer but the rally failed as did the Travelers.

Mobile made it two straight over the Vols, gaining Tuesday night's win on the strength of a six-run seventh inning.

Don Sauer's bases loaded single and a pinch-hit, three-run double by Benj. manager Mel McGahan were the big blows of the inning for the Bears.

Sports in Brief

By UNITED PRESS
FAYETTEVILLE (UP)—Three outstanding football players from Memphis and Thayer, Mo., have signed letters of intent to attend the University of Arkansas.

They are Jerry Rooney of Thayer and Kenneth Sayle and Robert Harbert of Memphis. Rooney is a three-sport artist, who plays football and basketball and is a track participant. Sayle was among top grid linemen in the Memphis area last year and Harbert is a 6-4 football, basketball and track star.

JONESBORO (UP)—John Rauth basketball coach of Arkansas State College, will address the basketball banquet at Jonesboro high school Thursday night.

RUSSELLVILLE (UP)—Arkansas State Teachers and Arkansas Tech split a baseball doubleheader Tuesday. Tech won the first game 4-2 but the Teachers came back to take the last one 5-2.

Carl Day got credit for the first game, limiting Teachers batters to five safeties. Teachers hurler stopped the Wonderboys with five hits to win the second game. Tech also contributed nine errors.

JONESBORO (UP)—Arkansas State College will end its track season by meeting the Murray State College and will end its track season by meeting the Murray State College Throughbreds at Murray, Ky. Saturday.

Murray, whom the Indians whipped 90-33 last year, is unbeaten in Ohio Valley competition this season.

FAYETTEVILLE (UP)—The University of Arkansas will send representatives of track, tennis and golf to the annual Southwest Conference Spring Sports Festival this weekend.

Only the Razorbacks' Southwestern Conference Champion golf team was expected to have much luck in the three-day sports carnival. The University of Texas was rated strongly in track.

CLARKSVILLE (UP)—The College of the Ozarks Mountaineers swept a baseball doubleheader from Ouachita Tuesday to remain in the race for their third Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference crown.

Ozarks won the first game 12-0 and the second 10-4. The Mountaineers now have an 8-4 season's mark. Conference leader Henderson State has lost only one game.

CLINTON (UP)—School Superintendent Shirrell Halbrook named Clarence Perkins head football coach at Clinton High School.

Perkins was basketball coach at Kensett High School before entering the Navy in 1954 and last year was assistant football coach here.

What Happened to Bobby Gooch?

By UNITED PRESS
Shortly before the outbreak of World War I in Europe, Bobby Gooch was recognized as one of the finest athletes in the South while competing at the University of Virginia. As a quarterback of the 1913 and 1914 Cavalier football teams, he experienced only two defeats—once to Georgetown and once to Yale. In track, he came close to 24 feet in the broad jump, then an almost "impossible" feat. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and later became a Rhodes scholar.

Whatever happened to Bobby Gooch? At 64, it's Dr. Robert K. Gooch and he still is at Virginia as professor of political science.

PRICE OF CAVIAR UP
MOSCOW (UP)—The retail price of caviar has gone up 30 per cent in Russia. The price was boosted Tuesday from 130 rubles ($32.50 at the arbitrary official rate of exchange) per kilo (2.2 pounds) to two rubles ($47.50).

who have won three straight and six of their last eight. Billy Pictree, who won 26 games last season, was kayced in the first inning but Ray Moore was charged with the defeat. The White Sox have lost nine of their last 11 games.

Silky Is Not Trailing in Popularity

BALTIMORE, Md. (UP)—Silky's still trailing Tim Tam—but not in the popularity league.

Silky Sullivan, the West Coast colt who disappointed so many of his fans in the Kentucky Derby, arrived here from Louisville Tuesday night to begin preparing for the Preakness, the second jewel in thoroughbred racing's Triple Crown classics.

Traveling with Gene Fishin', another West Coast colt who also fared badly in the Derby, Silky got here quite a few hours after Tim Tam, the Derby winner, but to a far more splashy welcome.

Approximately 150 fans were on hand at the M. Washington station when Silky's train arrived, but it wasn't until an hour later that the horse car bearing the "people's choice" pulled up to the siding. Children and adults alike waited patiently despite a drizzling, cold rain.

The spectators included more than 30 members of the nation's oldest Irish-American organization, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Baltimore. The crowd stood patiently by as photographers took picture after picture of the flaming red colt who finished 12th in the 14-horse Derby field.

Children in the crowd bore placards bearing such slogans as "Hoorya For Silky," "We Still Love You" and "Good Luck in the Preakness."

By contrast, there had been practically no spectators on hand when Tim Tam made a quiet arrival several hours earlier at the same station. Even Gene Fishin' went unidentified as his handlers walked him down the train ramp onto a waiting van. No pictures were snapped.

FIRST WOMAN TREASURER
NEW YORK (UP)—Magistrate Hilda G. Schwartz has been designated as the new treasurer of the City of New York, the first woman to hold the office. She was named Tuesday by Mayor Robert Wagner to the $20,000-a-year post.

Defense Says Girl Brought on Slayings

By JACK V. FOX
United Press Staff Correspondent
LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—The defense pictured Charles Starkweather today as a young man who would have lured his 11 killings at the halfway mark had not his 14-year-old girl friend brooded him on.

Not only did Carl Ann Fugate urge him on, but she held a shotgun as he told him she wasn't going to surrender and neither was he, lawyers for Starkweather said.

Attorney T. Clement Gaughan released two sections of the confession, the 19-year-old red-haired killer made last February.

They came as the trial went into its third day with a panel of 17 prospective jurors tentatively approved. It appeared a panel of 24 would be approved by late today and the 12-member jury chosen from that.

The portions of the confession represented questions and answers between County Atty. Elmer Scheele and Starkweather. He was being questioned in one about the events immediately after the slaying of Carol June King and Robert Jensen, both 17. They were Starkweather's fifth and sixth victims. He is being tried for Jensen's murder.

The confession went like this.

Q. What did you say?
A. Well, I was pretty leed off at her. And I said I'm going to give myself up.

Q. What did she say?
A. She kept trying to talk me out of it. We was going down shooting (presumably speeding) down the highway and I told her I was going to go and give myself up and she said, 'no I wouldn't.'

Q. And what did you say?
A. I said, 'yes I was.'

Q. And how did it end up?
A. When you got the .410 (gauge shotgun) settling there, I wasn't going to do it.

Q. What do you mean, the .410? Did she point it at you?
A. No. It was settling across her lap and she said she wasn't going to give up and she wasn't going to let anything stand in the way of her giving up. And I thought that was good enough for me.

There was no explanation of the contradictory nature of that statement.

Q. Did you have a conversation with her about taking her back home?
A. No.

Carl is being held in the Lincoln State Hospital pending a decision whether she is to be tried in Juvenile Court or can stand trial for murder as an adult.

The second section of the confession released dealt with events just before the slaying of young Jensen and his sweetheart.

Love of Life
Can't Be a
Soap Opera

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Properly speaking, CBS-TV's "Love of Life," a half-hour daytime entry, can't be called a soap opera. Its commercials have ranged from wick deodorizer to gastric distress powder to instant mashed potato mix.

Commercials or not, it looks like a soap opera to me. Each time I've peeked in, everybody's been in a lather.

If you haven't treated yourself to "Love of Life," I would advise you to get in shape for it by reading "War and Peace" or your local telephone directory. "Love of Life" has a couple of battalions of characters and their web of relationships is almost as complicated as building a do-it-yourself suspension bridge.

Long Chain

There is, for example, Meg who is married but separated from Jack who is going with Sally who knows Mrs. Gibson whose husband is Dr. Gibson, an obstetrician who is treating Meg who is pregnant by Jack but doesn't want Jack to know it.

There is, for example, Meg's sister, Vanessa, whose husband is dead and who has been offered a job on a TV show by producer Noel Penn who is a friend of Vicky who is a friend of Tom who is in love with Meg.

Now, if you have all this straight (and if you do, get out of the sun, it's affecting your brain), you should know that Tom is being blackmailed by Jack; that Tom's daughter, Cindy, has sent a schoolmate, Joan, to the hospital for tampering her about; Meg and Tom; that Beanie, who is Meg's son, is disturbed by Meg's fits of depression; that Vicky's maid, Liza, has advised Vicky not to be so nice to everybody; that Noel's director, Bob, doesn't like Vanessa too much but that Noel's secretary, Daisy, does; and that Sally's brother, whose name I haven't managed to catch, hates Tom.

Of course, those are only a sampling of the characters. There are also Evans, Lucille, Tammy and Aunt Iris, but if you think I'm going to get into that, you're crazy.

Like all soaps, the dialogue in "Love of Life" has a kind of Martin quality. No, make that Plinko. This stuff is really out in space! The line I liked best recently came from Tom while he was paying $25,000 blackmail to Jack. Jack: Or was it Evans? Or was it Beanie? No, it wasn't Beanie, I'm sure of that. No matter, the line went:

"That's to keep your foul mouth from dirtying Meg!"

Classic Corniness

The line was classic in its corniness, but it was delivered by Tom (or was it Joanne? No, that's another show) with an almost-believability. And that, I might add, is the only thing that saves a soap like "Love of Life" from going under in its suds—the quality of the acting. No matter how foolish the talk, the actors are consistently good.
